Frequently Asked Questions

Question

AVI ReComp shows that Xvid version is not described. Will AVI ReComp be working correctly?

Answer

AVI ReComp uses many sophisticated methods to detect the proper version of Xvid codec. Sometimes it is not possible to find these info. It doesn't mean that the program will not be able to recompress your clips. If you want the version of Xvid to be detected, please install the original and newest stable or beta compilation of this codec. We always use original Koepi's builds.
